

Press Release

Westinghouse Granted Two-Year Exception Relief for Selling T8 700 Series Fluorescent Lamps

October, 2012

Philadelphia, PA

Philadelphia, PA (October 2012) – The US Department of Energy Hearing and Appeals has granted Westinghouse Lighting a two-year exception relief from the new DOE efficiency standards that went into effect for certain general service fluorescent lamps on July 14, 2012.

As a result of this decision, Westinghouse Lighting will continue to sell 700 series T8 lamps and the products will remain in the Westinghouse product line for two additional years.

For additional information, please contact your sales representative or our Customer Relations team at 1-800-999-2226.

Media Contact:

Kathleen Katz,

P: 215.671.2044

E: katzk@westinghouselighting.com

Note to Editor:

Westinghouse Lighting Corporation

Westinghouse Lighting is a leading global manufacturer and marketer of lighting products, including light bulbs, lighting fixtures, and ceiling fans for residential and commercial applications. For more information, visit www.westinghouselighting.com.

